TWO HOLDUPS STAGED HERE BY BOY BANDITS

City Street Railway Motorman Thwarts Efforts of Two Youths

R. A. RAUB ROBBED

Descriptions of Boys Tally in Two Cases: All About 16 Years Old

Two hold-ups were staged here Sunday night by two bandits, one resulting in failure to obtain loot and the other netting the youthful robbers $11.55.

[illegible] R. Gibson, of 218 Patten-st, a motorman on the city street railway, succeeded in thwarting the efforts of two youths who attempted to rob him when his car arrived at the terminal of the car line on E. Fairground-st, near Greenwood-st, shortly before 9:30 Sunday night.

R. A. Raub of 192 Pearl-st, was not so successful when a juvenile hold-up pair believed to be the same ones who attempted the street car robbery, stopped him on Columbia-st, between [illegible] and Main-sts shortly before midnight and relieved him of $11.55.

Descriptions of the boys, reported to be about 16 years of age, tally almost exactly in both hold-ups. One of the boys was armed with an automatic pistol and the other stood by and instructed his companion to use the gun if necessary.

Gibson was able to parley with the boys until finally he managed to close the door of the street car and get it in motion, leaving the young bandits standing in the street empty-handed.

The motorman reports that he had stopped the car at Greenwood-st and had turned the trolley when the two boys came out of Greenwood-st from the south. He had been delayed in starting the car while awakening a colored man who was the only passenger on the trip from up-town. The boys put in their appearance after the colored man had left the scene.

The rear door of the car was locked and after trying the rear door of the car and finding it locked, the two youths came to the front where Gibson was standing in the vestibule.

With hats drawn down and handkerchiefs drawn over the lower parts of their faces, they demanded that Gibson "hand it over," announcing that they wanted currency and not small money.

Gibson played for time by informing them that he had no currency and as he did so, the boy who seemed to be master head of the proceedings instructed his companion to "shoot."

"Shoot him!" he demanded. "He won't give us the money."

Before the order could be compiled with, however, Gibson slammed the vestibule door shut and started his car west on Fairground-st.

Raub informed police that the boys who held him up were also armed with an automatic pistol.

The youths were described as wearing light felt hats, one a light overcoat and the other a leather coat.

FOUR ELECTROCUTED FOR MURDER OF PATROLMAN

Quartet Go to Their Death in Electric Chair in Pennsylvania

State Prison, Rockview, Pa., Mar. 7—Paying the penalty for the slaying of Patrolman Harry M. Cooper, of Philadelphia, the four Olney bank bandits went to their death in the electric chair chair here shortly after 7 o'clock this morning.

Joseph Curry, leader of the gang, Harry Bentley, William Juliano and Frank Doris were electrocuted in the order named.

It was the first time four men had been electrocuted for a single crime in Pennsylvania since June, 1921, when four Erie men paid the penalty, and the second time in the history of the death-house.

When their counsel, Attorney C. Stuart Patterson, informed the four condemned men that he had exhausted every source of further stay of sentences, they became resigned to their fate, their guards in the death cell said.

Patrolman Cooper was killed on May 4, last, while he was trying to apprehend two of the bandits who a few hours before held up and robbed William L. Miller, a messenger for the Olney Band & Trust Co. of $80,417 in cash and $20,000 in checks.

J. D. DE GALLEY STRICKEN AFTER YEAR'S ILLNESS

Senior Member of Local Law Firm Dies in City Hospital

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

Studied Law in Office of Former Governor Hamilton; Candidate For Judge

John D. DeGalley, 72, senior member of the law firm of DeGalley & DeGalley, and a practicing attorney in Marion and vicinity since 1876, died at the city Hospital at 3:25 Sunday morning following an illness of about a year. Death was caused by gangrene which developed from diabetes.

Mr. DeGalley had been at the City Hospital during the last three weeks and prior to that time failing health had prevented him from giving full time to his law business. Although at his office part of the time before being taken to the hospital, he had not been able to engage in active court practice since early last fall.

Since then the business has been handled almost entirely by his son and partner, Lloyd DeGalley. The partnership between father and son was formed here in 1906, immediately after Lloyd DeGalley was admitted to the bar.

Funeral Wednesday

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock, Wednesday morning, at the Hess, Markert & Axe funeral home, 230 E. Church-st, and burial will follow at the Galion cemetery. The last rites will be in charge of Rev. R. W. Smiley, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and special ritualistic services will be conducted by officers of Canby Lodge No. 51, Knights of Pythias. Mr. DeGalley was a member of both the Presbyterian Church and Canby Lodge.

The services will also be attended by representatives of the Marion County Bar Association, with which Mr. DeGalley has been affiliated since he began the practice of law here in 1901.

Well Known

Mr. DeGalley was one of the best known attorneys in this part of Ohio. He was prominent in political affairs as a Democrat during the greater part of his career but held office only once. This was in Galion, when he was elected municipal attorney shortly after beginning the practice of law in 1576. He was a candidate for common pleas judge here last fall but at that time his health had begun to fail and he was prevented from engaging actively in the campaign.

Mr. DeGalley was born May 28, 1855, in Washington County, Maryland, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham DeGalley, pioneer Maryland residents. After getting his preliminary schooling at Quincy Academy, one of the leading educational institutions in that part of the country a half century ago, he studied law in the office of former Governor Hamilton at Hagerstown.

Practiced in Galion

He came to Ohio in 1875 and the following year was admitted to the bar. After practicing law in Galion seven years, he moved to Mt. Gilead, and after being located there about 15 years, returned to Galion, moving from there to Marion in 1901.

During the 26 years that he resided in Marion, Mr. DeGalley's law office was at its present location, 135 N. Main-st.

His son and only surviving relative, Lloyd DeGalley, plans to continue the law business at the same office.

TAXATION AGREEMENT IS SOUGHT BY SOLONS

Gasoline Toll Increase Question Foremost in Plans of Leaders

Columbus, Mar. 7—Ohio legislative leaders here today renewed their efforts to have the solons reach an agreement on a taxation program, including disposition of the question whether the state gasolene tax will be increased from two to three cents per gallon.

Separate caucuses are expected to be held tonight or Tuesday by senate and house Republicans.

Republican leaders today indicated that they expect the gasoline tax to be increased this session. Legislators from the rural districts are insisting upon the gasoline tax boost so as to provide funds for highway construction and for elimination of dangerous railroad crossings.

A number of senators, however, are urging that the question of a gasoline tax increase be determined by a statewide referendum vote next November.

The house calendar for tonight's session calls for roll calls on the question of passing 17 bills. The senate calendar for tonight's session will be made up by the senate calendar, or "jitney," committee late today.

HARDING TOMB WORK TO START IN THREE WEEKS

Building Equipment To Be Installed at Memorial Site in Few Days

Construction work on the Harding Memorial Tomb is expected to be started in about three weeks, according to arrangements made here Saturday by C. H. Preuninger, superintendent of the Elford Construction Co. of Columbus, who was here planning for installing the building equipment at the memorial site south of the city some time this week.

Mr. Preuninger, a former Marion man, will have charge of the building work. He stated Saturday that the first step will be the construction of a driveway from the main thoroughfare to the Memorial site to provide facilities for hauling in marble and other material to be used in the structure. This driveway must be exceptionally substantial and durable, due to the fact that many of the peices of marble to be brought in will be of huge proportions, some weighing eight and nine tons, Mr. Preuninger says.

The Elford Co. has already shipped three carloads of equipment and these are expected to arrive about the middle of the week.

The first marble shipments, expected this week, have been delayed and are not likely to arrive for two or three weeks, the construction superintendent states. This will not hold up the building work, however, as installation of building equipment and the driveway can not be completed before the date that the marble arrives.

JURY IS SELECTED FOR HARRY F. SINCLAIR TRIAL

Two Sides To Adhere Strictly to Federal Code Violation Question

Washington, Mar. 7—A jury to try Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil operator, for alleged contempt of the U. S. Senate was secured today two hours and a quarter after the trial opened in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

Twelve men were placed in the jury box soon after noon to decide whether the oil operator should be fined and sent to jail for refusing to answer questions propounded to him by the senate oil investigating committee three years ago.

The selection of the jury was so rapidly disposed of that no witnesses were on hand when the government reached the opening of its case and court recessed until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

The trial, before a jury in the court of Justice William Hitz, involves for the first time in history a direct challenge of senate authority to investigate what and when it will.

Although the entire story of the teapot dome leasing by Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall will again be presented in the trial record, the decision will be, not upon the validity of the lease or the alleged conspiracy incident to its execution, but solely upon whether Sinclair violated Section 102 of the Federal Code in refusing to answer 10 questions put to him by the senate investigating committee on Dec. 4, 1923.

Section 102 of the revised statutes, under which Sinclair was indicted, declares to be guilty of a misdemeanor any person who, having been summoned before a committee of either house of commons, "refuses to answer any question pertinent to the question under inquiry."

The defense will be that the questions propounded were not within the normal scope of an inquiry designed to facilitate the legislative function of the senate, and that when the committee attempted to go beyond that function it exceeded its constitutional authority.

TWO HURT SERIOUSLY AS RESULT OF FREE-FOR-ALL

Cincinnati, Mar. 7—Two men were in a serious condition here today as the result of a "free-for-all fight" in a night-club late Sunday. Two men have been arrested in connection with the affair.

HARTER PROMISES MAZER IMMUNITY

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE AFTER 3-HOUR SESSION

Both Prosecutor and Ora Slater Say They Believe Louis' Story

WILL BE STATE WITNESS

First To Appear Before Grand Jurors at Canton Tuesday

Canton, Mar. 7—In return for information which he has given the state Louis Mazer, Canton, third man indicted for the Don Mellett murder of July 16, last, will be given immunity, County Prosecutor Henry Harter, Jr., announced here today.

Harter and Ora Slater, Cincinnati detective, after a three-hour conference with Mazer Sunday, both say they believe his story.

"I expect to use Mazer as a state witness," Harter declared this morning, "and if he is used as a state witness and tells the truth, he will be granted immunity."

Information Valuable

"The information which Louis Mazer has given is considered very valuable by the state, particularly as against those persons already named as conspirators, and, while it may not and probably will not result in return of additional indictments at this time, the state thinks it will aid materially in the solution of the entire conspiracy."

Mazer will be held for appearance before the grand jury here tomorrow and also as a material witness in the trial of Floyd Streitenberger, which may now be set for Mar. 16, the date originally set for Mazer's case.

Streitenberger, former Canton policeman, was arrested Mar. 8 on a charge of first degree murder for his alleged part in the Mellett slaying.

Pat McDermott of Nanty Glo, Pa., and Ben Rudner, of Massillon, have already been convicted of complicity in the murder and are serving life terms in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

May Go Free

There is a possibility that Mazer may go scot-free as a reward for turning state's evidence but this has not been definitely determined pending the grand jury session and the Streitenberger trial.

Arguments in behalf of Ben Rudner, before the appellate court at Mt. Vernon, scheduled for today, were definitely called off, after a hurried conference last night between George Gordon Battle, and E. L. Mills, attorneys for the Massillon hardware dealer.

It was decided best to postpone arguments pending action of the grand jury Tuesday.

RAICHLEY CASE TAKEN TO U. S. SUPREME COURT

Legal Battle Over Property Bequeathed to Masons in Final Stage

INVOLVES $250,000

High Tribunal To Decide Question of Diversity of Citizenship

The legal battle being waged to set aside the will of the late Burr Raichley, Marion man who bequeathed the bulk of his $250,000 estate to the Marion Masonic Temple Co., has reached its final stage with the filing of an application for hearing in the United States Supreme Court.

Local attorneys interested in the case received official notice today that Mrs. May Berg and Frederick Raichley, cousins of Burr Raichley who are contesting the will, have applied for a review of the case in the nation's highest tribunal.

The United States District Court at Toledo and the Federal Court of Appeals at Cincinnati have both decided against Mrs. Berg and Raichley, the rulings being based on the contention that federal courts have no jurisdiction in the case.

Judges Agree

Judges in these tribunals have held that there is no "diversity of citizenship" among the litigants in this case and that Federal Courts are without authority in the will dispute. All interests involved, it is claimed, are centered in Ohio and as a consequence the case should be tried in an Ohio court.

It is upon this point that the plaintiffs are backing their appeal. Whether the supreme court will grant the petition depends upon whether the same point has ever been decided by that tribunal or not. Attorneys for the heirs say that there is a decision on record and their adversaries make claims to the contrary.

Executors Sued

The suit is brought against Harry J. Merchant and Clyde C. Smith, executers of the will, the Marion Masonic Temple Co., the chief beneficiary under the terms of the will, and Elizabeth Grills, Ruth Porter and Brough Brown, to whom small bequests were made.

James H. Eymon is attorney for the executors, and Mouser, Young & Mouser, Guthery, Strelitz & Guthery and John H. Bartram represent the Masonic Temple Co. and other heirs.

Mrs. Berg and Raichley are represented by prominent Kansas City and Toledo law firms and W. P. Moloney of this city.

The will was admitted to probate here on April 21, 1924, shortly after Burr Raichley's death.

SEEK LODI MAN ACCUSED BY GIRL ON DEATH BED

Former Elyria Resident Being "Shadowed" by Police in Cincinnati

Lodi, O., Mar. 7—Arrest of Fred Wilkening, 27, alleged to be responsible for the death of Marguerite Wagner, 14, is expected within a few days, according to a statement from authorities here today. Wilkening is reported to be in Cincinnati, and police there have some information concerning his whereabouts, it was stated. Wilkening, it is charged, attacked the girl several months ago. Later he forced her to take some tablets, which it is believed, subsequently caused her death.

On her death-bed the girl signed a warrant for Wilkening's arrest.

Wilkening, who formerly lived in Elyria and who has been involved in a number of misdemeanors in Medina County, according to police, left Lodi when he learned of the girl's illness.

Local authorities today expressed the fear that the accused man is being "covered up" in Cincinnati, where he has relatives and friends.

Eberhardt was not authorized to make definite proposals to Moncado, however, without authorization from Washington.

President Charles Wishart of Wooster College, gave the principal address of the conference at the banquet Saturday night at which Rev. Raymond W. Smiley, pastor of First Church, presided as toastmaster. President Wishart, in a splendid address on the subject, "Youth and the Church" said, "There are many just criticisms to be made of the church, but one can do nothing effectively in organized society without an organized institution. So one must either use the institution one has or achieve a better one."

Special Music

"The Church, with all its faults, has perpetuated the spirit of Christ and organized His will among the people, the best thing one can do is not to criticise but to improve the situation. The Church has always been said to be dying, but is still very much alive and offers to youth the greatest opportunity for serving humanity in the world." Music for the banquet was furnishe by the First Church Sunday School orchestra under the direction of Judge L. B. McNeal. Mrs. H. M. Temple gave a reading after which a playlet, "And the Lamp Went Out" was presented by the dramatic club of the First Church.

URUGUAYAN AVIATORS ARE SAFE AT CAPE JUBI

Major Larre-Borges and Companions Protected by Friendly Caravan

Madrid, Mar. 7—The Uruguayan aviators headed by Major Larre-Borges who came to grief a week ago while attempting a transatlantic flight, today arrived at Cape Jubi, Rio De Oro Province, Africa, under the protection of a friendly caravan by whom the aviators were rescued.

The arrival of the airmen, whose lives had all but been despaired of during the four days of fruitless search following their disappearance, was greeted with wild enthusiasm by the Spanish authorities of Cape Jubi, who rendered the aviators every assistance.

The Spanish cruiser Bonifaz was due to arrive at Cape Jubi today and the Uruguayans will be taken aboard and brought back to Spain, according to present plans.

Thus far the meagre dispatches received indicate that the Uruguayans suffered no great injury when their plane crashed, beyond bruises and minor cuts. It is believed that their lives were saved by the fact that they came down in sand dunes which softened the impact of the crash.

The fliers were fortunate in meeting with the Hait Lassen tribesmen, as the region in which they came down is frequented by Moorish bandits who are unfriendly to white men.

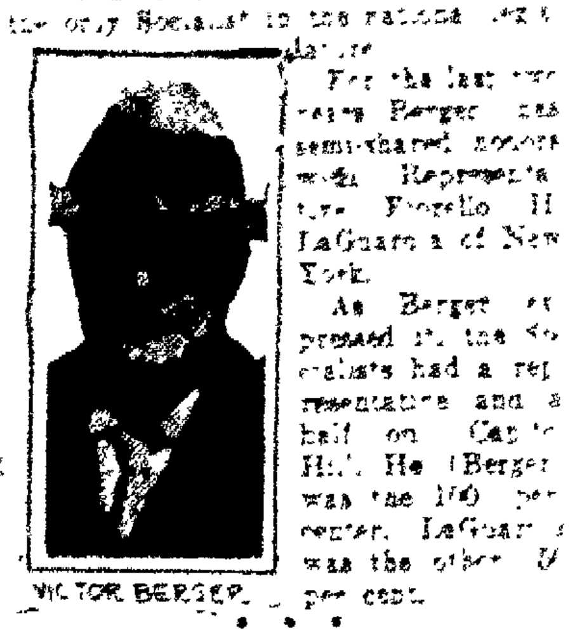
Berger Once More Becomes Only Socialist in Congress

La Guardia Returning from New York Next Term as Republican

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7—With the [illegible] congress adjournment, Rep. Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee is again the only Socialist in the national legislature.



VICTOR BERGER

For the last two years Berger has semi-shared honors with Representative Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York.

As Berger expressed it, the Socialists had a representative and a half on Capitol Hill. He (Berger) was the 100 per center. LaGuardia was the other 50 per cent.

* * *

AT that, Berger was pretty liberal in making Socialistic allowances for the New Yorker.

LaGuardia is uncontrollable as a Republican to the point of absolute independence. [illegible] Wisconsin's [illegible] conservative compared [illegible] [illegible] was elected to congress three times on the [illegible] before his own party organization decided he was too radical to be [illegible] with any longer and refused [illegible] nomination. It was [illegible] [illegible] He [illegible] [illegible] Socialist [illegible] That was a lesson to the Republican organization. It took him back [illegible] and he is [illegible] Republican [illegible] more that he [illegible] next December.

That [illegible] leave Berger [illegible] glory.

LaGuardia [illegible] a 50 percenter [illegible] fraction of [illegible]

HE [illegible]

He was the [illegible] man of his party in the 62nd congress. He was worse than that [illegible] He was elected [illegible] wouldn't admit him, because he [illegible] American entrance [illegible] War [illegible] more [illegible] he was under sentence to 20 years in the penitentiary for [illegible]

This [illegible] a constituency from choosing him again in 1922. By that time the supreme court had knocked out his penitentiary sentence, so he got his seat and served another term as a "maverick," to borrow from his own description of his political status.

During 1925-6 and 1926-7 he has had a little company—LaGuardia's—but now he's his party's sole standby again.

BERGER [illegible] doesn't feel lonely [illegible] need to. The same congressman [illegible] scalp the house of representatives [illegible] loudly [illegible] of its most popular members today.

He [illegible] and can get the [illegible] whenever he wants it. The house's only regret is that he doesn't avail himself of his opportunities more frequently, but if he spoke all [illegible] [illegible] make all [illegible] tolerance, as such. But a man who [illegible] himself a progressive without being [illegible] real thing according to Berger's [illegible] doesn't get off so easily. Berger [illegible] that kind unmercifully, in fact [illegible] the house as a whole [illegible] funny but the squirming [illegible] forgets it.

STRESEMANN IN CHAIR AT COUNCIL OPENING

None of 20 Questions of Agenda Considered of International Importance

Geneva, Mar. 7 — Foreign Minister Herr Stresemann of Germany, for the first time since Germany entered the League of Nations, occupied the presidential chair at today's opening session of the league council, the forty-fourth session of the council.

While none of the more than 20 questions of the Agenda is considered of international importance, Geneva attaches the greatest importance to the chairmanship at this session because the agenda includes the Saar Basin and Upper Silesian issues.

Although small in itself the Upper Silesian issue—Poland claims right of admittance of Polish children to German schools—is expected to develop into a rolling up of all the German Polish controversies.

Equally, the Saar issue—embodying the Greman protest against the maintainance of French troops in Saar territory—probably will result in a Franco-German controversy.

Because of these issues the greatest significance was attached to the conferences held by the three foreign ministers, Stresemann, Briand of France, and Zaleski of Poland, with a view to reaching an agreement prior to the opening of the session itself.

Marion Show Fans Offered Part In Stage Production

WANT to go on the stage? Want to be "a" actor? If only for a night?

Well, here's the chance. "The Poor Nut" is coming to the Grand Theater Wednesday night for one performance. It is the all-Ohio tour of Elliott Nugent's comedy of life at Ohio State University. "The Poor Nut" is probably the only real legitimate success Marion will see this season.

The climax in "The Poor Nut" occurs when a simple youth, played by Nugent, gets his chance to run for Ohio State against Wisconsin in the big track meet. For every big athletic event there must be an audience and an audience there must be for the race between the Buckeyes and the Badgers.

It is impossible for the company to carry enough persons to make up this huge crowd so the management of the Grand has announced that it will receive applications up to 6 p. m. Tuesday for "jobs" as spectators of the big race.

After all applications are in Tuesday night the manager of the company will pick his spectators. There will be not only a chance to be seen but also to be heard for the runners need cheering.

A. W. SANDROCK TAKES POSITION IN BARBERTON

Bird - McGinnis Post Head Resigns as Assistant Funeral Director Here

A. W. Sandrock, employed as assistant funeral director of the H. Schaffner Co. during the last two years, resigned Saturday and will leave this week for Barberton, where he will take a similar position with Weigand Bros., prominent undertaking firm in that city.

Asa Queen, secretary and treasurer of the Schaffner-Queen Co., which recently took over management of the H. Schaffner Co. undertaking business, stated today that Mr. Sandrock's successor has not been appointed as yet.

Mr. Sandrock's leaving will necessitate election of a new commander of Bird-McGinnis Post, No. 162, of the American Legion, an office which he has held since last fall. His resignation will be received by the Post at its regular meeting Wednesday night and arrangements for election of his successor will probably be made at that time.

Mr. Sandrock, whose home is in Milwaukee, came to Marion two years ago from Waterloo, Ia., where he was connected with an undertaking firm.

A brother of Joseph, also a witness to the shooting, told the motive behind his brother's act.

Unable To Hold Love

It was the story of a married man who was unable to hold the love of his wife—the story of a wife who found her happiness in the company of other men.

Joseph knocked on the parish house door of St. Raphael's Roman Catholic Church early today. Father Mahoney, a little startled by this untimely visit, answered the door.

Joseph, trembling, asked if he might see Father John J. Sheridan. The priest asked for appeared a few moments later. Joseph asked him to please come with him. Father Sheridan went back into the parish house, dressed and returned.

Joseph hailed a taxicab. The priest sat alongside of the distraught man. He said nothing. Asked no questions.

Joseph asked the taxi to stop at 500 W. Forty-Ninth st., where he summoned his brother, Anthony. The taxi drew up in front of Joseph's home, and the three went into the building.

As Joseph opened the door to his apartment he drew the priest aside and said, in a hopeless tone:

Little Hope Held

"Father, I just shot my wife."

Father Sheridan rushed into the apartment. There he saw Mrs. Joseph on the floor, two bullet holes in her right temple. The priest turned to Joseph:

"Father, forgive," Joseph gasped.

With this utterance, Joseph placed the muzzle of his revolver, a .25-calibre automatic, to his head and pulled the trigger. He fell beside the body of his wife.

An ambulance was summoned from Bellevue Hospital. Joseph was rushed there, with little hope of saving him.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

GLADYS M'CONNELL

In the 18 months that Gladys McConnell, 1927 Wampas star, has been in the movies she has had the lead in five O. Henry stories, played opposite Buck Jones in "The Flying Horseman," second leads in "A Trip to Chinatown," "The Midnight Kiss" and "Marriage." Her latest release is a Hal Roach picture, "The Devil Horse." She never stood in the "extra" line.

Then, too, there's Belle Bennett who has been pleading with Samuel Goldwyn to give her a share of the profit which he is making on her contract. He pays her $1,000 a week but charges $5,000 weekly when loaning her to other companies and Miss Bennett insists she's entitled to a share in the $4,000.

* * *

SOME months ago every director on the Paramount staff was ordered to be on the lookout for promising material in the extra ranks, in restaurants, at the theater, anywhere at all, just so they found new talent. Those whose business it is to know what the public wants say there is a demand for new faces and Paramount is out to meet that demand.

That organization recently has formed a stock company composed of all the players under contract to them and as fast as the directors discover "finds", they will be added to the stock players. Paramount is counting on this plan to give experience to actors within the organization to prove more satisfactory than casting players with whom they are unfamiliar and who must be shown the Famous Players way of doing things.

At present the stock company includes 58 actors and actresses now under contract and the number will be rasied to 100 shortly.

In an effort to obtain practical, helpful and constructive ideas and suggestions for the advancement of the quality and usefulness of moving pictures, Carl Laemmle, president of Universal, has established the Laemmle award. It will consist of annual prizes amounting to $5,000 open to writers on newspapers, magazines and trade journals throughout the world. The only requirement is that these suggestions be published in a recognized publication and then sent to him.

And still the War of the Contracts continues to be fought in Hollywood.

Greta Garbo has announced she'd rather work for $400 a week under her old contract, which only has a year and a half to run, than to sign a new one calling for $2,500 weekly for five years.

Over at the First National studio Dorothy Mackaill has been holding out for more pay and Rod La Rocque has sued to break a contract which he has with Cecil deMille contending deMille has committed a breach in not using La Rocque's name in as large a type in advertisements as the name of the picture.

LAST RITES FOR W. P. KIMBLE TO BE WEDNESDAY

Prominent Erie Railroad Official Stricken; Well Known in Marion

Erie Railroad Co. officials and employes from various points along the company's lines are planning to attend the funeral services of Willis P. Kimble of Galion, veteran Erie official, to be held Wednesday afternoon at Paris, Ill., where he was born 69 years ago.

Mr. Kimble, who was well-known in Marion and other cities and towns on the lines of the Erie, where he served as division engineer many years, died Thursday morning at a hospital in Los Angeles, Cal., while he was on a vacation which had been planned in hope of restoring him to health.

Leave Galion

Mr. Kimble, accompanied by his wife, left Galion on Jan. 16 for Tuscon, Ariz., where it was thought that an extended rest under favorable climatic conditions would prove beneficial.

Improvement in Mr. Kimble's condition was noted for some time but about two weeks ago he suffered a heart attack and his physician immediately advised him taken to Los Angeles, a lower altitude.

Mr. Kimble, who had been in the employ of the Erie Railroad Co. since 1894, was a frequent visitor in Marion during that time. He became especially well known here when negotiations for moving the Erie division terminal from Galion to this city were in progress, Mr. Kimble representing the company throughout all of the planning and discussions. These deliberations, which culminated in transferring the terminal to this city in 1912, were in progress over an extended period.

Born in Paris

Willis Prentice Kimble was born in Paris, Ill., on April 6, 1858, the son of George W. and Sarah J. Kimble. On Nov. 8, 1888, he was united in marriage with Miss Sarah S. Gates of La Plata, Mo., who survives him and who was at his bedside during the closing hours of his life.

After receiving his early education in public and private schools at Paris, he attended the college of engineering of the University of Illinois, graduating from there in 1879. In August of the same year he entered the engineering department of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad at Las Vegas, N. M., and continued in various positions with that company until January, 1881.

After that employment he became connected with the Mexican Central railroad and it was while he was with this company that the first line of railroad from the United States was constructed into Mexico.

County Engineer

Mr. Kimble was later municipal and county engineer at Paris, Ill., and then re-entered the service of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe.

In 1894 he began his long service with the Erie when he accepted appointment as division roadmaster of the New York, Lake Erie & Western. In 1897 he was promoted to division engineer of the Cincinnati divison of the Erie and continued in that capacity until about 12 years ago, when he was assigned to special work in the engineering department, a position which he held until the time of his death.

Mr. Kimble was a man of unusually pleasing personality which made him one of the most popular officials in the entire Erie system. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, being a member of the Blue Lodge, Chapter and Commandry at Paris, Ill., of the Council at Bucyrus and the Scottish Rite and Shrine at Columbus. He was also a member of Galion Lodge, No. 1191, B. P. O. Elks.

C. K. Scott of this city, division engineer, will be among the many Erie officials and employes present at the services, Wednesday.

CLARIDON FAMILY TAKES CASE INTO OHIO COURT

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Parr Appeal to Supreme Tribunal for Decision

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Parr, residing near Claridon, today appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court from the judgment of the Marion County courts which recently found them guilty of failing to send their child to school.

Seeking exoneration, Mr. and Mrs. Parr claimed physicians told them to keep their child out of school because of her condition. The child, they claimed received such special instruction from a teacher as her condition permitted.

The battle between the parents and Marion County school authorities last fall when Justice of the Peace Bell in Caledonia ordered the parents to furnish bond to insure the child's attendance at school.

The cause was brought to the Marion County Common Pleas Court where the judgment of Squire Bell was affirmed. The case was then appealed to the District Court of Appeals, Lima, where the judgment again was confirmed.

Today's action marks the last step in the case.

SEVERE BLOW IF TRUE

General Chang Tsung Chang Cut Off from Nanking Railroad

London, Mar. 7—The Cantonese have aptured Soochow, following a lightning-like thrust across the Lake Taihu district, according to Chinese newspapers, news correspondents at Shanghai report.

* * *

Shanghai, Mar. 7—The battle fronts where the northern and southern Chinese are at grips for the possession of Shanghai were quiet but hostilities were expected to be resumed at any hour.

General An Kuo-Chun, northern commander, has fortified the Soo Chow hills at the entrance of Wukiang, preparatory to making a determined defense against the nationalists, who have now advanced to Panwang, on Lake Taihu. Seven thousand northern troops are now holding Wukiang, with An Kuo-Chun reinforcements coming up steadily from Nanking. Foreign observers declare that An-Kuo-Chun's position is impregnable.

Practically all of the foreigners have evacuated Soochow except for some customs officials and a handful of American missionaries.

Sun Chuan Fang's forces and the Shantung armies have formed a junction some 13 miles to the south of Soochow.

The General Labor Union is soliciting funds from labor unions planning to arm its adherents, it is reported. This move it is stated is for the purpose of intimidating mill workers who are disinclined to support the movement for a general strike, which the labor unions plan to call when the Nationalists enter Shanghai.

Agitators for a general strike have already aroused the masses and the twelfth casualty was reported today when an interpreter employed by a Japanese mill was shot down by thugs.

Mar. 12 will make the second anniversary of the death of Sun Yat Sen and there are grave fears that there may be demonstrations on that date.

SAYS MANIA FOR STARS BACK OF SUICIDE WAVE

Oxford College Official Would Have All Students Take Part in Athletics

Oxford, Eng., Mar 7—The American mania for star college athletes is partially responsible for the wave of student suicides in the United States, according to the views of Dr. Walter Tyrell Brooks, proctor of the chancellor's court and coroner of Oxford University, in an interview with International News Service today.

The student life of America would be far more wholesome if all students were forced to take outdoor exercise and engage in athletics instead of all concentration being placed upon the production of a few star athletes, Dr. Brooks believes.

"English universities have never been troubled by suicide waves," said Dr. Brooks, "because more than nine-tenths of the undergraduates engage in one sport or another.

"What the American colleges should do to stop the epidemic of suicides is to force, directly or indirectly, all their students to take outdoor exercise."

Coeducation on the High Seas.

Education on the high seas is one thing; coeducation on the high seas is an entirely different proposition. The time is not yet ripe for the latter.

The foregoing is, in substance, the conclusion of former Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, expressed by him in Rome recently when the 550 students of both sexes who left New York last September to make a world cruise on the Ryndam, "the floating university," were doing the Holy City. The former governor said the present cruise, which has touched at many ports, had made plain to him that it will be advisable to wait some time before again attempting to send young men and women to sea together to further their education.

Told briefly, the three objections to a coeducational world cruise, as seen by the former governor, are:

First—The presence of companionable young women distracted the young men from their studies to a disturbing extent.

Second—Contiguity of youth of both sexes started many courtships of varying degrees of intensity.

Third—Residents in foreign ports at which the ship touched, not having reached the American ideas of the emancipation of women, misinterpreted the meaning of the venture, with resultant complications.

"Originally the cruise was intended for men only," said the former governor, who is a member of the faculty of the floating university, "but when this was found impracticable because of insufficiency of male applications it was decided to try coeducation. We took along fewer than 100 girls, selected from 1,000 who had applied.

"After five months of this experiment we are forced to the opinion that it would have been more effectual if the cruise had been confined to men. One of the purposes of the cruise was the establishment of international student contacts. Very few of the nations visited, however, use the coeducational system of education. Therefore the presence of so many women among the students proved confusing to the people of most of the nations visited and prevented educators in a country like Japan, for example, from viewing the cruise as a serious educational undertaking, as they would have if the students had been confined to a well-selected body of male undergraduates. Neither the Asiatic nor the European countries are yet ready to cooperate with us in coeducational undertakings."

All that Governor Allen says may be very true. Any and all attempts at coeducation on the high seas, so far as book learning is concerned, may end in failure. But as a means of acquiring an education in human nature, it seems to us, a world cruise under such conditions as those governing the Ryndam party should prove ideal. It has been said that one may live next door to a man half a lifetime and not know him so well as one would become acquainted with him on a [illegible]-mile trip. And there's a lot in it. There are few of us who do not reveal ourselves while traveling in a party, and if there's any littleness or meanness in us it's liable to develop under the annoyances of travel. If a considerable number of young people fell into love with each other on such a world cruise, they may be far better off than they would have been had they given all their effort to observation and study. They have passed a severe test. Governor Allen will have a hard time making them see failure in such a cruise.

"Belief Only Half What You See."

There's an old saying to the effect that [illegible] believe nothing [illegible] and only half what we see. [illegible] of this [illegible] the weather bureau [illegible].

[illegible] a great [illegible] of [illegible] red [illegible] time at [illegible] we view [illegible] to appear [illegible] golden [illegible] that the atmosphere has [illegible] during the night and is free [illegible] from [illegible] through which we [illegible] the sun, is reddish hue and [illegible] redder as [illegible] through atmosphere carrying more [illegible] than that through which we look at [illegible] the late morning and early afternoon hours.

Now the weather bureau [illegible] we are all [illegible] in our conception of the sun's color. It doesn't so put the proposition, but from what it says it is manifest that here we have a case where we are to believe only half we see. To all intents and purposes we are right about the shape of the sun, but we are all wrong about the color half of the proposition.

The weather bureau says the sun is blue, that were we on the moon, which has no atmosphere, the sun would appear to us as a blue disc in a black sky, which develops another matter in which we have gone wrong—the color of the sky. The bureau's explanation is that the atmospheric gasses scatter most of the rays in the violet end of the sun's spectrum so that the sky appears blue instead of the sun.

Here's the text of the explanation as given out by the bureau:

"For a long time the weather bureau has been measuring the intensity of the radiant or heat energy received from the sun at a few of its stations. From these measurements and the value of the solar constant, or the intensity of solar energy outside the earth's atmosphere, the losses suffered by the solar rays in coming through the earth's atmosphere become known. There are three principal sources of loss, namely: absorption by the gases of the atmosphere, principally water vapor; scattering by these gases, and scattering by the solid particles, or dust, in the atmosphere. The rays scattered are not all lost to the earth, for some of them come to us as diffuse radiation from the sky. The intensity of this diffuse radiation is also measured by the weather bureau and is a considerable percentage of the whole.

"On account of its very high temperature—about 6,000 degrees on the absolute scale—the sun would appear blue in color if its rays suffered no loss in our atmosphere. But the atmospheric gases scatter most of the rays in the violet end of the spectrum. In consequence the sky is blue and the sun is white, or even red, when viewed near the horizon through a hazy sky.

"It seems to be well established that short-wave or violet light plays an important part in the prevention and cure of certain diseases. Hence the great importance of a more detailed study of sunlight. At sea level comparatively little radiation of the short-wave length, which physicians consider the most potent germicide, is found in direct sunlight, while skylight if the sky is free from smoke and dust, is comparatively rich in ultra-violet."

So there you are. The sun isn't golden, white or red; it only looks that way. It's blue. The sky isn't blue, it's black. It only looks blue because we see the rays of the violet end of the sun's spectrum scattered through it. "Believe nothing that you hear and only half what you see."

The case of Babe Ruth rather goes to show that, from a purely financial viewpoint, having a little experience in the movies is even more profitable to a ball player than touching an occasional game of ball.

"Can it be," asks the Milwaukee Journal, "that highway commissioners forget that they are hired by a hard working citizenry for the purpose of building roads and not constructing political fences?" Well, it's possible. We've found them a bit forgetful down this way at times.

There was a time when we were inclined to believe that the big end of the population of Russia was made up of the peasantry, but the way they have been coming over here makes it manifest that the Russian population was made up almost wholly of princes.

Paragraphers should hesitate about criticizing Babe Ruth's weakness in holding out for the $100,000 he wanted. We've seen the time when the most of us would have been willing to discount a $100,000 salary thirty per cent.

Temperance a Rule in Eating.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Dr. Benjamin Franklin fixed upon thirteen virtues as being essential to the happiness and welfare of every individual. The first of these was temperance.

"Eat not to dullness; drink not to elevation," said the sage.

No one of us would be quite satisfied, I'm sure, to follow Franklin's advice in everything. But the advice he gives in the matter of temperance is worthy of acceptation.

Have you ever noticed the deadly dullness that characterizes any legislative or judicial body an hour or two after the midday meal?

Men with no need of nourishment have crowded their stomachs with food and drink. Because it is the hour universally recognized as the time to eat, is the only excuse for going to the table at all. Not only do they go to the table to eat but they use no judgment in the amount they eat. In consequence they eat to dullness.

Time and again I have been impressed by the lack of judgment in eating on the part of men who appear to know everything else the books can teach. Without regard and, apparently, without suspicion of the harm they are doing themselves, they overload their stomachs.

Growing children must have great quantities of food. They must be fed at regular intervals and rather short intervals at that. At this age they must supply the food to replace the wear and tear of their active lives. In addition to supplying these demands they must have the material necessary to proper growth.

Grown men and women, particularly those past middle life, do not require large quantities of food. This is particularly true of persons engaged in inactive pursuits.

Certainly brain workers, if they would do their best work, must refrain from overeating at noontime. They may well follow Franklin's admonition: "Eat not to dullness."

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

D. M. A. Q.—What do you advise for reducing the hips?

A.—Any exercise that involves the muscles of the parts should prove reducing. Try walking, running, skating and dancing. You might wear a rubber corset.

* * *

M. M. M. Q.—I am a young woman of twenty, five feet three inches tall. What should I weigh?

2. How can the ankles be reduced? The leg is thick just above the ankle in the back.

A.—You should weigh about 125 pounds.

2.—If the trouble is due to fat, exercise and massage will help to reduce the ankles; if due to muscle formation, nothing can be done. Reducing in a general way may be helpful. For further particulars send a self addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

E. J. H. Q.—What can be done when one is slowly losing the sense of taste and smell? Is catarrah a local or constitutional disorder? What treatment is advised for this trouble in the nose and throat?

A. First of all clear up the catarrhal infection. It is a local disturbance. Keeping the nasal passages clear and using a cleansing spray in both nose and throat should be helpful. For further particulars send a self addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. Copyright, 1927.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

Don't think prohibition is a local issue. In far-off Tibet we are told that officials stand at the gates of some of the Buddhist institutions and smell the breath of attendants who have been down to the capital. If alcohol is detected the attendants are locked up. No doubt about enforcement there. After all folks have many things in common no matter where they live.

Many interesting [illegible] have come out of Italy from Julius Caesar to Mussolini. Now we hear of the newest [illegible], the new aristocracy, which is to be based on "nobility of good conduct." Into it may enter all families that are able to prove [illegible] good conduct by all their members for a period of at least thirty years. A list will be published soon. This will establish [illegible] "goodness" of the right sort. No [illegible] aristocracy about this. What will [illegible]?

G. Bernard Shaw may be a little severe when he says every man over forty is a scoundrel. But it approaches the truth to say that men don't improve much when they are over forty—or at least when they are past fifty. Most folks "get set" in middle age. Can't do much with them. The glory of youth is in its possibility of improvement.

Ten years ago it was predicted that the electrical industry in America would absorb $1,000,000 a day of new capital. Wall street was shocked. Last year the electrical industry absorbed $2,000,000 a day—and nobody was shocked.

Don't be inaccurate in telling your little three or four-year-old what you'll do to him if he doesn't behave. He may not believe you but what you say is likely to influence him for life. Adler, noted Viennese psychologist, says the plane of life is pretty much fixed in the first five years. The child is then set toward success or failure.

"Temperament" furnishes an easy excuse for much failure. We take refuge in our temperament when we don't want to do things. Forget it. Do things when you have to do them, whether you like it or not. In time you will create a temperament you can control. That will be much more comfortable than having one that controls you.

Dinner Stories.

The magician's turn at the vaudeville house was not going at all well, but he stuck to his task in the face of rows of faces more resigned than amused.

"Now," he said, wiping his hands on his handkerchief, "if any lady or gentleman can oblige me with an egg, I will proceed to perform a truly amazing trick."

For a moment there was silence, then from the gallery a voice rang out loud and clear.

"If anybody 'ere 'ad a egg, you'd 'ave 'ad it long ago."

"Yes, it is really remarkable," observed mother at the head of the table. "Clifford seems to eat twice as much chicken when we have visitors."

"Mary!" she cried indignantly. "why didn't you call me at 5 as I asked you to?"

"But, ma'am," said Mary, "you asked me to call you if you dropped off, and when I looked in at 5 o'clock you hadn't dropped off at all, you were lying on the sofa in the same place fast asleep!"

Vagrant Verse.

SONG BEFORE SPRING.

I said, I will write it today.
I will write that winter is over,
Winter is done.
I will say that high up in the hills
Streams ripple and run.
And the roots are astir, and the sap,
And I hear the soft breath of a tree,
And I hear the green whisper of moss,
And the wings of a bird.

I said, I will write it today.
I will call it "A Song Before Spring."
I will tell of faint clouds
As bright and as dim as a dream,
Of the willow wands, amber in mist,
Of the first little snowy-white lambs,
And of rain in the night,
A soft rain, as gentle as tears,
And a blade of young grass and a bud,
A crocus!

I said, I will tell
Of the laughter of children—
And then
I remembered a seam to be stitched
In a gay little frivolous frock,
A ruffle to set, and a sleeve.
She wanted to wear it tonight.

And the poem curled up in my heart
Like the tight little frond of a fern,
Not a word of it written at all
And the needle and thimble and I
Said, What does it matter today?
It will surely come out before spring!
And the frock is the loveliest thing!

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. What is meant by "gumming a saw?" H. P. H. H.

A. "Gumming a saw" means to establish properly the depth of the interval between the sawteeth. This is not a serious problem on hand saws as the three-cornered file does this as it does its other work. On circular saws and drag saws, however, if a file is used for gumming, it must be a round file or a flat file with a round edge.

Q. Do tall office buildings sway when the wind blows? S. T.

A. The movement of tall buildings is very slight. Strictly speaking they bend rather than sway. Tall office buildings are flexible, being built of steel that has a high elasticity and in a heavy wind where the total side pressure may amount up to hundreds of tons, the steel framework will bend over before it. Occasionally the swaying is perceptible to the senses, but as a rule in most modern buildings, the movement is so slight as to be perceptible only by instrumental measurement. Formerly, it was customary to allow for a uniform pressure per square foot over the whole surface from street level to cornice. Today it is recognized that the unit pressure increases with the height and calculations are made accordingly.

Q. What was the "Barebones Parliament?" T. M. B.

A. "Barebones Parliament" was a derisive term applied to the "little parliament" summoned by Oliver Cromwell, July 4, 1653. It derived that name from one, Barebone, a tanner, one of the members for the city of London.

Q. How large are whales? F. W.

A. The blue whale is the largest whale. It is about seventy-eight feet long, thirty-five feet around the shoulders, and has a head nineteen feet long. The weight of the flesh is fifty tons; of the blubber, eight tons; blood, viscera and baleen, seven tons; bones, eight tons.

Q. Who invented the jinrikisha? I. T. M.

Chile con-carne is something that most Americans think they know about, but very few of 'em ever tasted real chile. Down in Oklahoma, where I came from, and in Kansas and Texas, the citizens eat chile like the rest of the Mexicans eat. In the rest of the United States, I believe, they serve chile that has been soft-pedaled. It's had the sting taken out of it like an indignant state department note to a power that has a big navy. Well, if you never ate chile in the Southwest, you ought to do it, for the experience.

There was a guy that was doing a fire-eating act with a circus sideshow. He was playing San Antonio one day, and dropped in at a little lunch counter and ordered a big bowl of chile.

A fellow that was setting alongside of him said: "Say, boy, won't you do a little fire-eating for us, just to show your stuff is on the level?"

"Well," says the fire-eater, "I'd like to do that, but I'm on a diet now, and outside of show time the doctor says I've got to have something hot to eat."—Copyright, 1927.

SLACKENING OF PACE IS FATAL TO UPPER TEAM

Maumee Victorious Over Wyandot County Crew at Bowling Green

Upper Sandusky, Mar. 7—A slackening of the reins in the third quarter of a game lost the game in the second round and a possible final victory for the Upper Sandusky High School Boys' basketball team playing in the district tournament at Bowling Green, Saturday.

The first team to be played, Rawson, was met in tip top style and beaten by a 36 to 17 score, the largest score to be run up during the tournament. This showed the Upper squad to advantage as the Rawson team had not suffered a defeat this year and was judged one of the strongest teams in the tournament. They had won the championship of Hancock county. The Upper boys were in excellent condition and displayed their finest basketball tactics in this game. The second game came with Maumee, who was the final victor in the tournament. Both teams seemed evenly matched and the half ended with a close score.

During the third quarter the Upper team let up a bit in their heavy guarding and allowed the Maumee five to forge ahead gaining a lead which could not be overcome in the last quarter. The game ended 27 to 23 in favor of Maumee.

Sycamore Beaten

Sycamore, the Wyandot county champion in the county tournament held in this city, played their first and last game with Woodville being beaten by three points. The score stood 22 to 19.

The Maumee boys will now go to Findlay next Friday and Saturday to take part in the semi-finals of the Northwestern District, the tournament Saturday being merely an elimination tournament.

Marysville, Mar. 7—Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for Mrs. Lydia L. Mullen, 78, one of Marysville's oldest and most prominent residents. The services were held at the home in this city, conducted by Rev. C. C. Kennedy, pastor of the Methodist Church, and interment was made in the family lot in Oakdale cemetery.

Mrs. Mullen passed away Saturday night following a long illness.

She was born in Franklin County, near Columbus, and was a daughter of Samuel and Roxanna Kelsey Jewell, both deceased. The family moved to Union County when the deceased was a young girl and the father engaged in farming as an occupation until elected to the office of county treasurer when his family moved to Marysville.

In 1866 she was married to Theodore L. Mullen, a civil war veteran, and they made their home in Marysville for many years. Two children were born. One, a girl, died in infancy. The other, a son, E. A. Mullen, of Marysville, survives.

Mrs. Mullen also is survived by one grandchild, residing in Florida, two brothers and three sisters.

MARYSVILLE HIGH QUALIFIES FOR SEMI-FINALS

Union County Outfit To Oppose Upper Arlington Next Friday

Marysville, Mar. 7—Winning three successive games at the Central District tournament at Delaware, last Friday and Saturday, the red and blue warriors of Marysville high school will take the floor against Upper Arlington High of Columbus next Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The match will be the semi-final of the Class B division and will be the first time in the history of the local school that a cage team has been produced of a caliber to wade through to the semi-finals. The event will draw one of the largest crowds of Marysville fans to witness a Delaware tournament.

Marysville in its second match of the meet defeated the Liberty Union team by a 19 to 10 score. Stricker and Laird were high scorers in the Marysville line.

Forfeit Disappointment

Marysville fans were disappointed in the forfeit of New Dover to Johnston Three. New Dover players were out of the game with illness and with only two substitute players entered a game was an impossibility. The locals had little trouble defeating the Johnston crew and rolled up 31 to 15 score. Stricker and Laird were the high scorers for the locals.

Marysville has already had some experience with their opponents for next Friday. In a game at the Upper Arlington gym, the locals won out with a 24 to 14 score. This would indicate that Marysville would have easy going on the home stretch but the dope from those witnessing the Arlington team play contend that there was a marked improvement in the games played in the tournament and that with Marysville.

FUNERAL HELD FOR VICTIM OF RAIL ACCIDENT

Fred Jacobs, 32, Killed in Big Four Yards at Galion

Galion, Mar. 7—Private funeral services for Fred Jacobs, 32, who was killed while working at the Big Four yards early Saturday morning, were held at the home, 367 N. Columbus st., at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in charge of Rev. W. O. Montague. Following the services the body was placed in the mausoleum at Fairview cemetery.

Jacobs met instant death when he was thrown from a car which he was attempting to uncouple. Striking a switch he was thrown some distance from the train where he was found by fellow workers several minutes later. Jacobs was rushed to the Good Samaritan Hospital but medical authorities there stated that death was instantaneous resulting from a fractured and badly cut skull, internal injuries and several broken bones. The body was taken to the Snyder funeral home and then to the Jacobs residence on N. Columbus st.

Jacobs was a very popular man, a member of the Galion Lodge of Elks, the Moose Lodge and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

WAPAKONETA-HI, BOWLING GREEN WIN AT KENTON

Kenton and Lima St. Rose Defeated in Fast Semi-Final Games

Kenton, Mar. 7—For the first time in three years Kenton will not be represented in the regional basketball tournament at Findlay Friday and Saturday as a result of the local high school court aggregation being defeated in the finals of the meet here Saturday night by Wapakoneta, 27 to 28.

As running mates with Wapak will be Bowling Green whose clever quint defeated the strong St. Rose aggregation of Lima by a score of 19 to 17. The armory court here was jammed with fans with hundreds being turned away from the doors.

In the semi-final games Saturday afternoon Wapakoneta had but little trouble in downing Findlay 37 to 11 while Kenton defeated Van Wert, 22 to 20.

Classy Quintets

Both representatives from this section have classy quintets. The Bowling Green team perhaps is the best, going through their entire season without a single defeat and meeting the stiffest teams entered in the tournament. Wapak had the decided advantage in the tournament, drawing a bye, being fresh for their game Saturday night.

In losing to the Wapak eagers Kenton high put up an exceptionally hard battle. Only one period was Kenton able to hold a lead on the victors. This was in the first when the score stood 7 to 6 in favor of the locals. The half ended with Wapak leading 15 to 10 and the score at the third quarter stood 21 to 17. In the last period several long shots by Garver cut down the margin of Wapak but the winning bucket could not be put across.

Bowling Green's defeat of St. Rose came as a surprise in many sections. The winners lead through the game and it was not until the last half of the game that the Rosarians put up much of a battle. Gordon was high scorer for Bowling Green, scoring seven points.

To defeat Van Wert in the afternoon game Kenton was forced to extend themselves. Timely baskets in the last period put the game on ice for the locals after Van Wert had lead throughout the contest. In the last quarter Kenton scored 10 points, all field baskets, to Van Wert's two foul goals.

Wapakoneta had an easy time of it in their first game of the tourney Friday afternoon when they defeated Findlay 37 to 14. They played along at an easy pace with the Wyandot County cagers giving them but little opposition.

An automobile windshield wiper in wide use in England was invented by a woman.

HEAVY DEBT TO GOVERNMENT TO BE SATISFIED

Properties at Chicago, Willoughby and Bucyrus Affected by Court Order

Bucyrus, Mar. 7—The steel plants of the Hadfield-Penfield Steel Co. at Bucyrus, Willoughby, O., and Chicago, will be sold to satisfy a debt to the government for money advanced during the World War on contracts for munitions according to official orders issued Saturday in the company's receivership case by Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver, Cleveland, according to advice received here today.

The company's obligation is $1,500,000 and the plants are valued at that much or more according to federal authorities.

Cancelled wartime contracts left the company owing the government and in 1920 when mortgages on the properties became overdue, the government filed suit to foreclose.

The sale is to take place during the week of May 2.

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. That is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S. S. S. You owe it to yourself to try S. S. S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S. S. S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S. S. S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S. S. S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—Adv.

OPENS NEW SERIES

Capacity Congregation Hears Rev. Raymond W. Smiley

A congregation which filled the entire seating capacity of the First Presbyterian Church heard the pastor, Rev. R. W. Smiley, speak Sunday night on the subject, "Optimism," the first of a series of sermons which he is to give during March on the "virtues of society."

Reverend Smiley took as his text Galatians 6-9, which reads, "Be not weary in well doing for in due season ye shall reap as ye think not."

In his discourse, the speaker spoke first of the existence of a "false optimism' in the minds and beliefs of many persons. "There are certain people," he said, "who close their eyes to the evils about them and say they do not exist. That is false optimism. It is false to say, 'Health, health,' when there is no health.

"The worst should be known in order that the best may be applied," the pastor declared.

He said that persons who are true optimists do not close their eyes to evil or wickedness about them, but because they are actually true optimists they can peer through the wickedness and see the light.

Next Sunday night Rev. Mr. Smiley will speak on the subject "Charity" and this will be followed by sermons on "Appreciation" and "Enthusiasm."

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Constipation! How to Keep Bowels Regular

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated men, women, children, and particularly old folks, had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all headaches, biliousness, indigestion and stomach misery, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

CHAPTER FIFTY-EIGHT

"[illegible]" said the official, "that won't [illegible] know. Are you accusing this [illegible] of theft?"

"[illegible] not asduthing anybody," said the [illegible]. "But I want to find my pocketbook. I have been athleep and perhapth thith gentleman can [illegible]."

"I'm sorry," I said to the official. "But I'm afraid I cannot help you. I know nothing whatever about the matter."

The Jew turned upon me quickly.

"Nobody elthe wath in the carriage. [illegible] my pocketbook and I will thay nothing about it."

"Am I to understand that you are making a charge?" inquired the official.

"I do not want to make a charge, but my pocketbook hath been taken. Nobody elthe could have taken it."

The official turned to me.

"I'm sorry, Monsieur, but that is a formal charge."

"The man's mad," I said to the official. "I can assure you I have not touched his pocketbook or his tickets. I don't even know when he boarded the train."

The official gazed from one to the other of us, bewildered. Then he turned to the girl.

"What have you to say, Mademoiselle?"

"I have nothing to say," she replied. "I have been asleep almost the whole time."

The official turned back to me.

"I suggest," he said courteously, "that in order to satisfy this gentleman, Monsieur should display the contents of his pockets. It would be a pure formality. I am sure that if there is nothing, the gentleman will apologize and pay his fare."

"But this is monstrous," I protested. "I am not accustomed to being treated in this manner and I don't understand it."

"I hope you will comply with my suggestion," replied the official suavely. "Otherwise, since this gentleman has made a definite accusation against you, I shall be compelled to communicate with the police when we reach Lausanne."

Delay was the last thing I wanted and I accordingly complied, fuming inwardly as I did so.

"I consider the gentleman's conduct outrageous," I said angrily, "and I can only conclude that he must be suffering some form of insanity."

I put my hand in my pocket and, beside my note case, I felt something hard and smooth, which I drew out. In my hand lay a small leaf-green portfolio. I stared at it in mute amazement. The moment his eyes lighted upon it, the Jew stretched out his hands.

"There," he cried triumphantly. "What did I thay? That ith my property. Athk him if it ithn't."

I was utterly dumbfounded and my face must have shown my confusion, for the courtesy of the official vanished and his tone of respect changed.

"Come, come," he said, "is this your property, or is it not?"

"No-no," I stammered, "I've never seen it before."

"Do you claim this as your property, then?" he continued, turning to the Jew.

"Yeth, yeth," he replied. "My inialth are on it. If you look inthide, you will find my ticket and the ticket of thith lady."

The official picked up the case and did as he was bid. In one corner on the outside were the initials "A. P. L." He extracted from the case a considerable sum in Swiss money and two second-class tickets to Geneva. Then he turned to me.

"It is my duty to arrest you on a charge of theft," he said sternly.

At that I found my voice. I protested as energetically as I could that I knew nothing of how the case came into my possession, that I had never seen it before, and that the little Jew must have put it in my pocket himself out of malice. The official remained unconvinced.

"Did you know the owner?" he inquired. "Have you any reason to suppose that he would wish to have you arrested?"

"Yes," I began, and then stopped.

I could not go on, or I should give Claypole away. If I mentioned my telegram to the police in Geneva, the little Jew would become suspicious and might warn the Center. My position was hopeless.

"That is, I mean, er—no," I stammered. "I have never seen the gentleman before."

Just then the train slowed down suddenly with a shrill screaming of brakes and came almost to a standstill. At that moment it came to me, too, that I must at all costs get free and somehow reach Geneva to warn the police. The sudden slowing down of the train gave me an idea. I rose quickly.

"Very well", I said. "I am in your hands, but I warn you that you are making a very great mistake."

I glanced at the other end of the coach and then my eyes dilated. I pointed towards the door.

"My God, look at that," I cried. "The coach is on fire. Look!"

The official looked in the direction in which I pointed and as he turned, I hit him as hard as I could behind the left ear with my clenched fist, so that he measured his length. The little Jew gave a startled exclamaton as I jumped over the body of the prostrate official, and he rose from his seat to stop me.

I dealt him a heavy blow over the shoulder which sent him staggering back on the lap of the girl, and was through the door opposite my seat and in the passage beyond, tugging at the handle of the outer door in less time than it takes to write.

In another second I was out of the moving train and on the railway line below. It was pitch dark and rain was falling.

I heard confused sounds coming from the coach, but even as I jumped, the brakes were removed, and the train gathered speed again. It had slowed down only for a moment, and now it was disappearing rapidly into the darkness.

I lost no time, however, in watching the departure, but, ran quickly forward at right angles to the railway track till I came to a low fence, over which I climbed, dropping down into the road beyond. I started off in the direction followed by the train, running hard. I must find some safe means of escape in the next few minutes or my number was up. The guard would in all probability pull the communication cord. At any rate, the moment the train reached Lausanne the police would be warned.

Presently I dropped into a walk. The road stretched in front of me, and in the far distance I could see the lights of a considerable city gleaming mistily through the rain. I continued for about five minutes, noting with satisfaction that the road no longer ran parallel to the railway line, but wound round towards the left. Presently it joined another road which, from the condition of its surface, I judged to be the main route. I turned to the right and walked down it for a short way till, rounding a corner, I saw before me the single word "Garage" outlined in electric light.

I approached the notice and found that it hung above the doors of a small motor-repair shop. Attached to it was a sign bearing the words "Automobiles a louer," while at the right side, distinct in the blaze of an electric lamp, was a kilometer stone on which was graven "Lausanne 4 km." The doors of the garage were open and I heard the sound of a car's engine running inside.

LOCAL RAINBOW WOMEN PRESENT FILM TONIGHT

Corporal Ingleston To Describe Pictures as They Are Shown

Corp. Bob Ingleston, who appears at the Grand Theater today and Tuesday with the United States Signal Corps pictures that were taken on the battle lines at Champagne, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, and the Argonne, has had a varied career and is considered today one of America's greatest photographers. Previous to his casting his lot with Uncle Sam, he was the official photographer of the state of California.

The corporal was one of the few signal corps photographers in France who returned with the victorious American army, yet he did not escape with a clean bill of health as he was wounded several times and gassed twice, and through his experience with the various units of the A. E. F. and his constant duty in the battle zones, he is able to present a clear lecture of conditions.

"America Under Fire" is being brought to the Grand Theater by the Marion Chapter, Rainbow Women of Ohio, with the express purpose that those who stayed at home in 1917 and 1918 and carried on so courageously and who sacrificed in order that the doughboy might carry on in France, will have the opportunity of seeing and knowing just what happened over there. There will be but one show each night, starting promptly at 8 o'clock.

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

I SAT in troubled musing for a full hour after Dicky had gone to his own room with the caustic comment that if he remained in my company in his present humor, he would say something to make me angry. Then, unable to fix my mind upon my work, I went into my room, undressed and got into bed, adjusting my reading lamp, and taking a magazine in the hope that I could get to sleep quickly, and be enabled to arise at an extra early hour upon the morrow. In that way I could make up the time lost from my work by the inexplicable lack of concentration which was mine.

But I could not get to sleep. I told myself scornfully that I had become so much a creature of routine in the last few weeks that any deviation from it upset me as much as if I were a spinster school-teacher of the old time. Every evening had been the same, after half-past nine, the hour when I took Dicky's young niece her hot milk and tucked her into bed. From that time until midnight I put into shape the results of the research work for Philip Veritzen which had busied me during the day. It was a time when I was uninterrupted, for Dicky rarely came home before eleven and then went directly to his room and his task of manuscript reading.

Queer fancies beset me as I lay trying to read; I felt as if unseen eyes were watching me, and several times I was sure that I heard stealthy rustlings outside my door on the private staircase, which led from Mary's room to mine. Once indeed with a malediction upon my own folly, I arose and went to the door of the staircase, but, of course, found it empty.

My conscience, too, had its inning, flagellating me for being so preoccupied with my fascinating new work that I had not noticed Dicky's indisposition, so patent now to my eyes. His gibe at my present unconcern as contrasted with my past worry on his account, rankled all the more deeply in my memory because I knew that it was deserved.

Yet I knew that I would be doing myself less than justice if I shouldered all the blame for the undeniable estrangement, intangible but dangerous, which had grown up between my husband and me. Surely, Dicky had given me ample cause for resentment in the years since our wedding day. I broke off this train of thought promptly, scorning to hide behind it, and promising myself that I would let no remembrance of past injuries interfere with the very real concern I felt for his welfare.

As it happened, however, I had no opportunity to give my good resolutions any concrete expression for several days. Exhausted by long vigil, for it was nearly dawn before I finally slept I did not waken until long after breakfast.

"I try vake you oop," Katie told me later when I appeared in the kitchen. "Und Missis Bickett, she try. But you shoost say, 'Go vay, let me sleep.' So ve tink ve better do dot leetle ting. Before Meester Graham go to vork, he go to door und spik to you, but you no answer, so he say, 'Let her sleep till she vake oop herself,' und den he go vay."

I choked back an unpardonable impulse to ask my little maid if Dicky had been angry, for nothing annoys him so much as my being sleepy when he wishes to talk to me. But later I received an answer to my unspoken question when the telephone rang, and I heard the smooth, musical voice of Edith Fairfax.

"Oh! Madge!" she said. "Dicky wants me to tell you that he's been called out of town suddenly, won't be back until late Friday, but he'll surely be on time for Mrs. Underwood's dinner. He's sending a messenger up right away, and wants to know if you'll have Katie check up on his traveling bag an give it to the boy."

"Surely," I said cordially, "I'll attend to it at once. Good-by."

But the hand which hung up the receiver was trembling.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

Harding High Goes Into Semi-Finals With Lancaster

Mt. Vernon is Easy for Red and Black Warriors in Second Round of Meet

Final Score Is 23 to 9; Mt. Vernon Fails To Make Field Goal Until Last Quarter; No Individual Stars on Harding Crew; Columbus North and South To Meet in Semi-Finals Also

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEB
Sports Editor, The Star

HARDING HIGH'S battling red and black cage warriors will go into the semi-finals of the Class A division of the Central Ohio district basketball tournament at Delaware next Friday night, meeting Lancaster High, doped as the winner of the tourney, at 7 o'clock.

The Marion quintet crashed through with an overwhelming victory over Mt. Vernon, Saturday afternoon, in the second round of the tournament, after defeating Central High of Columbus in the first round Friday. The final score in Saturday's game was 23 to 9.

Displaying the super game that featured the contest with Central, the Hardingites made "duck soup" out of Mt. Vernon. They had the orange and black crew whipped at half time with a score of 15 to 1. Early in the final quarter, Biggs of Mt. Vernon, caged the first field goal of the afternoon for his team. Cranmer made another and Mondron was credited with two points. All were long shots with lots of luck. Marion was never worried.

Mt. Vernon defeated East High of Columbus, 20 to 18, in the first round and it was thought by many that the Marionites would have a tough battle on their hands. But Mt. Vernon was puzzled by the dazzling offense put into operation by Harding and was lost when it attempted to approach the basket. The local fighters had everything their own way most of the game but had they let down at any time, they would probably have met with serious trouble.

No Individual Star

There were no individual stars for Harding. Points were divided almost equally among the five red and black men. Their guarding was superior and the entire outfit looked like the coming champions of Class A.

Garrett opened the attack with a free throw three minutes after the initial whistle. Vanata of Mt. Vernon tied the score with the lone charity marker recorded for that crew in the first half. Garrett again scored a free throw and Shults followed with a field goal just before the gun popped for the end of the first quarter. Harding led, 4 to 1.

Rinnert renewed festivities for the Marion lads in the second period by boosting one through the netted hoop. Hughie Shults, back guard, then dribbled through the entire Mt. Vernon quintet and looped a neat succor shot. McAninch came next with a pretty bucket and Garrett added another point via the free throw route. Shults then again duplicated the dribbling feat and annexed two more points while McAninch dropped in another a few seconds before the half ended. The count was 15 to 1.

Subs Go In

Coach Compton used Ben Gilmore and Cline in the last period. While neither may be found in the scoring columns, both played a good floor game and easily held their own with their men.

Chuck Evans found the basket in the last half. He caged two field goals. McAninch made another and Shults made the final counters of the fray.

Columbus North and Columbus South will meet next Friday night in the semi-finals while Harding is taking on Lancaster. North defeated Delaware 22 to 21 in an overtime game in the second round Saturday and South won over Newark.

The winner of the Harding-Lancaster battle will meet the victor of the South-North tilt in the finals Saturday afternoon.

Michigan Defeats Chicago, Wolverines Assured of First Place Tie in Race

Ohio State Wins Over Iowa, 30 to 29; Only Five More Games To Be Played in Big Ten Conference; Indiana and Purdue Have Chance To Tie Michigan

Chicago, Mar. 7—With only five games remaining on the 1927 basketball card of the Big Ten Conference, University of Michigan today reposed in first place, assured of at least a tie for that position. Whether the Wolverines will hold the treasured championship berth alone or share it with one or two other teams, will depend on games yet to be played.

Running true to form, Michigan defeated Chicago Saturday night, 34 to 15. The Wolverines play their final game of the season tonight at Ann Arbor with Iowa as the opposition. Unless all signs fail, Iowa should meet the same fate as Chicago. Such a result would give Michigan undisputed claim to the title.

Indiana, runner up to Michigan, also has one game left to play. The Hoosiers kept the trail hot by beating Northwestern Saturday night, 44 to 25. Their last game will be played Wednesday at Columbus against Ohio State. If Michigan should lose its final game to Iowa, and Indiana beats Ohio State, then Michigan and Indiana will finish the season in a tie for first place.

Purdue has a chance to horn-in on the possible tie, but to do so the Boilermakers must win both of their remaining games. They would have to beat Northwestern tonight at Evanston and Chicago next Saturday at LaFayette. Purdue's poor showing Saturday night against the weak Minnesota team when the boilermakers won by the narrow margin of one point, 29 to 28, makes it anything but certain that they can "take" both Northwestern and Chicago.

Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and Ohio State, not to mention the three "weak sisters"—Chicago, Northwestern and Minnesota—are out of the running and have nothing at stake but their "best possible position" in the final standing. Ohio State defeated Iowa Saturday, 30 to 29, and Wisconsin swamped Illinois, 39 to 13.

Wisconsin and Iowa play their final game Friday at Iowa City. The curtain falls on the 1927 season Saturday night when Chicago clashes with Purdue at Lafayette.

CRUICKSHANK FAVORED

Miami, Fla., Mar. 7—With the combination of Tommy Armour and Bobby Cruickshank favored by the onlookers, eight teams, survivors of the first day's play, tee off today in the second round of the international four-ball golf tournament. Armour and Cruickshank oppose Hackney and Hampton, with the others playing as follows: Mehlhorn and Burke vs Carberry and Boyd; Sarazen and Espinosa vs Klein and Murray.

FINDLAY BEATS VERNON JUNIOR HIGH CAGERS

Glenwood Juniors of Findlay Win on Home Floor, 33 to 27

Glenwood Junior High of Findlay Saturday night downed Vernon Junior High 33 to 27, on the Glenwood gym floor, Findlay. Vernon stars were Merchant and Schultz. Merchant scored 11 and Shultz nine of the 27 points. For the Findlay team, Redman stacked up 12 points and Silvens made 11.

Vernon players were accompanied by about seventy school fans, teachers, parents, cheer leaders and reporter. The game was hard fought with the teams being unusually well matched.

HOWITZERS DROP GAME TO COLUMBUS QUINTET

Lose Contest on Foreign Court by Slight Margin of Two Points

Howitzer Company cagers went down in defeat Saturday night after fighting their way to within two points of the Service Company, 166th Infantry, team in the Seventh-av armory, Columbus. The final score was 30 to 28.

There were no outstanding stars on the Marion guardsmen's quintet. They all played a bang-up game. Amick made three field goals, Kellogg got four. Manahan caged three field goals and a couple of charity markers. Bolton received two buckets, and Irwin connected for one.

Torgler was the outstanding player on the Columbus outfit. He made 16 of the 30 points.

SERVICE TEAM TO CLASH WITH COMMERCIALS

Hubers To Play Collegians and C., D. & M. Meets Picked Team

Three of the fastest Industrial League games yet staged this season are booked for the final round in the Star auditorium tonight. Commercials will play Railway Service, Hubers will meet the Marion Business College and the title winning C., D. & M. outfit will take on a stellar team composed of the five best men selected from Osgoods and Fairfields.

The Marion Business College-Huber clash is first on the program. The two teams are tied for last place in the league standing and the winner will have the fortune of not finishing in the cellar. The quintets are evenly matched. Each team has won two games and lost 10 during the present season.

The Commercial-Railway Service battle is second. These two basketball aggregations are tied for second honors in the Industrial League and will fight for possession of that position. The Commercials have defeated the Railway Service basketeers on two occasions this season while the Servicemen last week turned the almost impossible trick of handing the C. D. & M. five a drubbing.

Both teams are equipped, more or less, with Midway and Isaly Dairy players. They both play a neat game and are always fighting for the top position in the scoring.

The C., D. & M. cagers tonight will meet the toughest opposition that they have been up against this season when they clash with a five-man combination of the best players of Osgoods and Fairfields. The electricians two weeks ago cinched the Industrial League title when they turned in an overwhelming victory over the Marion Business College quintet.

With this fact in mind, the management of the league has arranged the game as announced, in order to give Industrial fans a treat in the final round.

The games will start at 7:15 and Doc King of Wesleyan will be the official.

LUCKY STRIKE "IT'S TOASTED" CIGARETTES

"It was while playing in a revival of Victor Herbert's 'Mlle. Modiste' I smoked my first cigarette. I was afraid it would make me cough and affect my voice. It seemed to ease it. I looked at the name. It was a 'Lucky Strike.' That is why it is the only cigarette I ever smoke. Cork tips, rose tips, or gold tips do not tempt me—I stick to Luckies."

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

[illegible] is going to go out like a [illegible] better begin to get busy, [illegible] like any lion I ever saw

[illegible] let Jubilee down by the [illegible] yesterday and had [illegible] and fed my face and [illegible] washing me we did not [illegible]. That is how warm it [illegible] she has got beautiful [illegible] would not put them in [illegible] was cold. She don't [illegible] on Sundays like she [illegible] to have a beautiful face.

[illegible] Bag of Tripe's mother [illegible] to our house yesterday [illegible] Sunday school to ast [illegible] what was the meaning of [illegible] he got in the attick, and [illegible] asked his mother what business [illegible] in our attick, and she said [illegible] playing. I said, yes, he [illegible] playing like the principal [illegible] the top of the schoolhouse [illegible] locked her out there. She [illegible] and told him to go [illegible] wait for her, so he went [illegible] was in the stable and they [illegible] Bag of Tripe go in our [illegible] the alley where the sun [illegible] is still a lot of [illegible] melted, so they started making snowballs of it and waiting for him to come out. And when he came out alone they flang the barn doors open and cracked loose, and he was hit and smeared before he knew was happening, and when he hollered his mother went rushing out just in time to get more of it than he did. She was knocked all crooked before the bunch knowed she was there and could stop.

The bunch skun out then, and the Lost Bag of Tripe's mother took her son home. She could not blame me for that. Then his father came charging over and began talking sassy to my father telling what he was going to do to him, and my unkle pushed my father out of the way and said to let him tend to him, and the Lost Bag of Tripe's father hit my unkle on the nose so hard his ears flopped. I went to Sunday school right then. That was no place for me.

Today there was a thunderstorm and the teacher was scairt, and Banty made out like he was scairt, and he hid under the teacher's desk and while she was patting him on the back on the other side of the desk and telling him to not be afraid he was making monkey faces at the school out of the other side. We sure had a good time.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

Uncle Wiggily hopped along the [illegible] in the Sugar and Spice Grocery where the dog gentleman clerk was tying some string around bags of sugar.

"What'll it be this morning, Mr. Longears?" asked the grocery dog, looking on the shelf behind him to see if any of the dill pickles were playing tag.

"Have you any boxes?" asked the rabbit gentleman with a twinkle of his pink nose.

"Boxes of what," asked the grocery dog.

"Nothing," answered the rabbit.

"Oh excuse me! I thought you said something," and the dog, with a surprised bark lifted a dried herring out of the cracker barrel and sent it out to play marbles with the goldfish.

"I did say something!" chuckled the bunny gentleman. "I said have you any empty boxes."

"And I asked you boxes of what and you said nothing," whined the grocery dog, "so then—"

"Well, that's exactly what I want—boxes of nothing—empty boxes," explained Mr. Longears. "I want some empty, pasteboard boxes."

"Oh, of course, I have lots of them. Help yourself!" Opening the back door of the store, the grocery dog pointed to piles of empty pasteboard boxes that had held oatmeal, crackers and different things.

Uncle Wiggily gathered his paws full of empty boxes and hopped back to his hollow stump bungalow. There, a little later, his wife and Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy saw him piling the boxes up curiously.

"What in the world are you doing?" asked the muskrat lady housekeeper, who had a bunch of feathers tied on her tail, for she was dusting the piano that morning.

"I'm making a play house, if you please," answered Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, Wiggy! Will you ever grow up!" sighed his wife. "The idea of a rabbit at your age making a play house!"

"Nonsense! It isn't for me," laughed Mr. Longears. "I am making this for Jingle and Jangle, Baby Bunty and all the other little rabbits to have fun in when they come from school."

"Oh, that's different!" squeaked Nurse Jane. So she went in to dust the piano with the bunch of feathers on her tail, and Mrs. Longears began to give the breakfast dishes their morning bath, while Uncle Wiggily piled the pasteboard boxes one atop of the other, cutting doors and windows in them and fastening the whole together with safety pins until he had a cute little play house.

"What fun the little bunnies will have with this when they come from school!" thought the rabbit gentleman. And no sooner did Jingle and Jangle, Tingle and Tangle, Buster and Custer and Bumble and Stumble—to say nothing of Baby Bunty—no sooner did they spy the play house than they shouted with joy.

"Oh, what fun we'll have!" sang the little girl rabbits.

"We'll help you play!" offered the boy rabbits.

So they began. Uncle Wiggily watched them, his pink nose twinkling faster than ever. He got some pieces of cake and cookies from Nurse Jane so the little bunnies could have a play party in the play house. Then, all of a sudden, the March Wind, which had not blown much that day, began to bowl and puff and rage about until all of a sudden, the March Wind blew over the play house, upside down and crossways.

"Oh! Oh!" cried Uncle Wiggily! "Hop out all of you before the play house falls on you, Hop out!"

Out hopped about forty sixteen little rabbits and then the Wind caught hold of one of the boxes that had been part of the play house and whirled it high in the air, tossing it into the low branches of a tree near by.

"Are all my little bunnies safe?" asked Mrs. Longears, hopping out of the bungalow with Nurse Jane.

Uncle Wiggily began to count their noses.

"All here but Baby Bunty!" he said. "Oh, where can she be?"

"Maybe she's under that pile of pile of broken boxes," said Nurse Jane.

But just then, all of a sudden, a voice in the tree called:

"Here I am!" And there was Baby Bunty in the empty box that the March Wind had caught up and tossed into the branches. "Here I am!" laughed Baby Bunty. And so she won.

Uncle Wiggily helped her down out of the tree and then he built the play house over again and the little rabbits had plenty of fun until it was time to go to bed. So if the clothes wringer doesn't pinch the tail of the shirt when it's trying to squeeze through to go out in the yard to play, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's frozen apple.

Send that fellow to the legislature? Why, he hasn't a single fool idea!

DON'T LET A COUGH OR COLD "GO DOWN"

A head cold may merely make you feel miserable while it stays in your head. But when you feel a cough or cold tightening your chest and spreading into your lungs, it is nearing the "danger zone."

[illegible] and unfailingly Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops a cough and drives out the cold.

Hospital-Proved Medicine—not just a "cough syrup!" This medication penetrates through and through the irritated membranes—and is then absorbed into the blood itself. That is how its healing powers are carried to every part of your system.

If you are catching cold; if you have a "head cold"; if your chest is tight; if you have a cough—even if bronchitis has developed—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! It has relieved more coughs and colds than any other medicine in the world.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is used by hospital clinics and leading physicians. Pleasant, safe and effective for children and grown people. At all druggists, 60c; twice as much, $1.00.

Hyatts Defeats Gambier; Marysville Five Survives

Marysville, Upper Arlington, Hyatts and Granville are the four teams remaining in the race for the Class B championship in the Central District basketball tournament at Delaware. All others were eliminated in the first three rounds.

The three Marion County Class B teams were eliminated in two rounds of play. Green Camp had hard luck and went down before Gambier 29 to 16 in the first game Friday morning. Caledonia and Prospect won their first games over Monroe Township and Carroll respectively but failed to survive the second round.

Caledonia met overwhelming defeat in the game with Gambier Saturday morning. The final score was 23 to 6. Prospect gave Upper Arlington a battle in the final minutes but was trailing on the end of a 22 to 19 score at the end of the game.

Hyatts Beats Gambier

Hyatts Saturday night defeated Gambier, the team that spelled the doom of the Marion County eagers with a 23 to 14 score. The snappy passwork of the Hyatts aggregation may carry it through to the finals and possibly the champion. Granville showed better form than usual on the large floor Saturday night and romped all over Scioto Township, winning 24 to 16, and going into the semi-finals with Hyatts. They play at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Marysville trimmed Johnstown 31 to 17 in the final game of the third round at Delaware Saturday night and went into the semi finals against Upper Arlington, who defeated the famous Bexley crew. Bexley was doped to win the tournament until downed by the Upper Arlington lads, 25 to 17. Upper Arlington, it will be remembered, is the team that defeated Prospect. Marysville and Upper Arlington will play at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon and the winner will go into the finals with the winner of the Hyatts-Granville game.

INDUSTRIALS SUBJECTD TO SEVERE TEST TODAY

Most Active Groups Regain Greater Part of Early Losses

Railroad stocks, irregular; industrials, reactionary; domestic bonds, steady; foreign bonds, fairly steady; call money, four per cent, grain, steady; copper, steady; oil, weak; cotton, firm; rubber, steady; sugar, steady; pig iron, firm; foreign exchange, irregular.

New York, Mar. 7—Industrial stocks were subjected to a severe test today when professionals and outside traders poured a heavy volume of selling orders into the market. On the whole, the test was well withstood, and many of the most active stocks, after being depressed to lower levels, regained the bulk of their early losses.

Once again the market demonstrated the effect of investment buying and the stability of marginal accounts as compared with a decade or more ago. The growing popularity of industrial dividend-paying stocks is evidenced by the smaller "floating" supply and by the active bidding for such stocks a point or so below current quotations. Under such conditions the bearish professionals find it very difficult to cause a wide open break in stock prices. Industrial and trade developments were meagre, but farther evidence came to hand on the easy position of the money market on the eve of the date for the payment of the first instalment of the federal income tax. Trading in the listed bond market fell off in volume, but the syndicate bankers reported a brisk demand for the new offerings of bonds, some issues being heavily oversubscribed before their formal offering to the public.

The motor stocks and the rubber and tire stocks displayed conspicuous buoyancy in the face of fairly heavy bearish selling. The oil stocks were depressed in the first part of the session, when Marland's disappointing report for 1926 was issued. But it required only a moderate amount of buying of Pure Oil, Mid Continent and others to lift the market quotations a point or more from the low of the day.

Professionals dominated the market in every quarter. Bearish pools and powerful professionals promptly resumed their selling pressure on U. S. Steel, Pullman, Dupont and other market leaders in an effort to start the market on a downward course, but it is doubtful if much genuine selling took place at the lowest prices recorded on the tape.

$2,100,000 NOW TOTAL IN PRESBYTERIAN DRIVE

Pledges from Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Kentucky, for the $15,000,000 being raised nationally by the Presbyterian Church of the United States, totalled $2,100,000 when the last formal reports were made. According to Will H. Hays, committee chairman, so large a figure early in the campaign is encouraging and probably means that this section will surpass their $2,429,000 quota. Ohio's total thus far is $1,200,000 and the grand total $9,200,000 with the campaign in the west as yet unbegun. The final report will be made at a meeting of the general assembly at San Francisco May 23.

Rev. A. W. Swan Preaches on "Investment in Religion"

Rev. Alfred W. Swan opened the month of March at Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church, of which he is pastor, Sunday night with the first of a series of sermons on the general topic "Investment in Religion," which proved to be exceptionally popular.

At the morning service he preached on the subject "Money and My Neighbor," taking as a text the fifth petition of the Lord's Prayer: "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors." He said in part, "This is a corollary of the Golden Rule—as you do unto others so they will very likely do to you, which is fair and just. We as Christians ought to pay our debts, because if we do not the other fellow cannot pay us. We ought to pay our debts because money is the life blood of human society. We ought to pay our debts, because if we do not God cannot make us prosperous. He rewards us in our own coin."

On the remaining Sunday mornings in March Reverend Swan will preach on the following subjects: "Money and My God," "Money and My Church," and "Investing a Life." The Sunday night services will include sermons on "Christ and the Widow's Mite," "Christ and Mary's Extravagance," "Christ and Judas' Silver."

MARION COUNTY TO FIGURE IN WAR ON BORER

Nine Townships Will Form Part of Battleground In Extinction Fight

Nine townships in Marion County, comprising the two northern tiers, will form part of the battleground of the state over which state and federal agents will attempt to stamp out the European corn borer.

With funds now available from both state and national governments, the strongest and most extensive of the moves yet made by government forces to rid the country of the corn borer will start within a few days. Every means at the command of the state will be employed in the fight. A small army of fighters, armed with implements of death for the corn borer will take the field as soon as Governor Donahey signs the Hamilton bill, passed by the legislature last week.

Marion County is on the edge of the present quarantine line, extending across the state. The quarantine line places the two northern tiers of townships within the quarantine belt and leaves the southern townships outside. It is in these northern townships that the workers will attempt to destroy every corn stalk in sight so that the crop of corn next year will not suffer from the depredations of the corn borer.

The townships which come under the present quarantine rules are: [illegible], Salt Rock, Grand Prairie, [illegible], Tully, Montgomery, Big Island, Marion and Claridon.

With the expected signing of the Hamilton bill this week, the present quarantine line may be moved 20 or more miles south of this present line. The bill gives Director of Agriculture Charles V. Truax the authority to move the quarantine belt if necessary, and to set up whatever precautions are necessary to prevent the spread of the corn borer.

The state government has appropriated $200,000 to pay for the extermination of the corn borer in Ohio. The federal government has set aside $2,000,000 for this work in Ohio. Both state and national government will cooperate in the drive scheduled to start this week.

Farmers will be asked by the anti-borer men to do one of four things with their old corn stalks, namely:

Burn all old corn stalks, plow them under, shred them, or put them in a silo.

The corn borer larvae, wintering in the stalks, will be killed by heat of burning or placing in a silo. Plowing the stalks under forces the larvae from the stalks and they die of exposure, which result is also gained by shredding the stalks so that the larvae are forced out.

Seek Cooperation

The state and federal employes, who will take part in the anti-borer drive, will touch every spot in every township now under the quarantine. They will ask the farmer either to destroy the corn borer on his own land, or allow them to do it.

Marion County so far has not been among the counties hard hit by the corn borer. The area in the county known to be infested with the pest, however, will be thoroughly covered by the state and federal agents.

The date for the start of the drive against the corn borer has not been set. Director Truax is forming his battle plans now, according to word from Columbus and expects to have them in readiness by the time Governor Donahey affixes his signature to the bill.

STIMULATION GREAT FOR OLD AGE

Quick Way to Renew Vitality

Because it helps to modify the nutritive processes, scientists claim that proper stimulation has a pronounced moderating effect on the breaking down processes in the human body and thus may add ten years to the average life span.

To get real nourishment out of the food you eat is life-giving, and the body-building elements thus created nourish the tissues and strengthen the nerves and vital processes. When there is incomplete nourishment, even though you eat heartily, disintegration of the body cells follows, and we become run-down, thin and undersize.

A remarkable stimulant-tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wine-glass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy.—Adv.

Inconvenience? Yes; But Never Pain

Menstruation is Nature—but menstrual pain is NOT natural, and not necessary. Science has conquered the painful part. In a harmless—yes, healthful—little tablet called midol.

Midol is a more remarkable means of relieving such pain than even a habit-forming drug. It acts directly on the organs affected by menstruation, and relief comes in five to seven minutes.

Don't have another day of forced quiet, of pain, low spirits or even discomfort! Midol is effective twelve hours or more. Yet it does not depress the heart, is not narcotic, and is utterly harmless. All druggists, 50 cents, in thin aluminum box that fits the smallest purse.
